

For 2025, the Friedrich Schlegel Graduate School of Literary Studies (FSGS) and the Cluster of Excellence 2020 "Temporal Communities: Doing Literature in a Global Perspective" (EXC TC) offer the following positions and grants:

- up to 3 project grants at the FSGS for the duration of 9 months
- 3 Einstein Fellowships at FSGS for students of German literature and culture from the Global South for the duration of 3 months (and a six-month digital program)
- 2 DAAD grants for international students of German literature and culture for the duration of 3 to 4 years
- up to 5 PhD positions for the duration of 3 to 4 years for graduate students working on their PhD-thesis at the FSGS
- 5 positions as research associate (E13 TV-L FU, 50%, limited to 31.12.2027) at the EXC TC/ FSGS or GSNAS in the context of one of the Research Areas 1-5 ("individual project") | EXCTC DOC RAO 2025 EN

The detailed and legally binding calls for application can be found on the website for Job Offers at Freie Universität Berlin (9. September 2024).

Applications must be submitted via the application platform of the Dahlem Research School. Applications submitted via mail, e-mail or in any other form will not be accepted.

The application deadline ends on 3 November 2024 at 23:59 CET.

Further information and details about the online application:

<https://www.geisteswissenschaften.fu-berlin.de/en/friedrichschlegel/foerderung>